

Message from the Principal's Desk:

Jalangi Mahavidyalaya, established in 2010, is a government-aided general degree college in Jalangi, Murshidabad district. It offers undergraduate and postgraduate courses in Arts. It is affiliated to the University of Kalyani. The college serves as an important higher education institution in the Jalangi area as it provides UG courses to the rural populace of the district of Murshidabad. It is a unique frontier higher education institution situated approximately 15 KM from the Indo-Bangladesh Border. Therefore, this college provides hope to the learners of the area. Most of the students enrolled in our college are first-generation learners who are in the process of becoming pioneer generations as they would usher in the educational empowerment of the region in days to come. Jalangi is situated along the Padma River which forms the geographical boundary between India and Bangladesh. The meandering nature of the Padma has challenged the settled habitat of the people of Jalangi since time immemorial. Jalangi Mahavidyalaya wishes to provide a stable learning environment in this region as a frontier college of West Bengal and India.
